Description

This determination arises because the authority has refused to issue certificates of acceptance, and has issued a notice to fix. The matters to be determined are the decisions of the authority to issue a notice of fix and to refuse to issue the certificate of acceptance. In order to determine these matters, the following must be considered: how the legislation applies to the building work and the procedures that must therefore be followed; - whether the building work is code compliant to the extent required by the relevant Building Act.
