Description

This determination arises from the parties' desire to have clarification on the access required for people with disabilities as part of alterations to an existing gym.

A code compliance certificate has not yet been applied for, and the authority has indicated that it will not consider such an application until it has either received the outcome of this determination of an amendment to the building consent to address access.

The matter for determination is whether the building work to alter the applicant's building, and the building as altered, comply with Clauses D1 Access routes and G1 Personal hygiene of the Building Code (First Schedule, Building Regulations 1992) to the extent required by section 112 of the Act.
