

Menu

- Home Home
- About this portal
- Latest updates

Print

Save

Email

Resource detail

Citations

Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014

View on Information Provider website

Abbreviation

SR 2014/61

Valid from

01/12/2017

Information provider

Parliamentary Counsel Office

Information type

Legislation

Format

Website

Description

These regulations, which come into force on 1 January 2015, are the Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014. For the purposes of Part 4A of the Building Act 2004 (the Act), which concerns consumer rights and remedies in relation to residential building work, these regulations prescribe the minimum price for residential building contracts for building work that must be in writing, must be dated, and must contain certain minimum content: a checklist and certain disclosure information that must be provided by a building contractor to a client if the client requests it; or if the building work is for not less than the prescribed minimum price: minimum content for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price: implied terms for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price where the contract does not contain the prescribed minimum content: information and documentation that must be provided by a building contractor to a client on the completion of building work.

For assistance with locating previous versions, please contact the information provider.

View on Information Provider website

For assistance with locating previous versions, please contact the information provider.

This resource is not cited by any other resources.

Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014

This document is not CITED BY any other resources:

Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014

Description

These regulations, which come into force on 1 January 2015, are the Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014. For the purposes of Part 4A of the Building Act 2004 (the Act), which concerns consumer rights and remedies in relation to residential building work, these regulations prescribe the minimum price for residential building contracts for building work that must be in writing, must be dated, and must contain certain minimum content: a checklist and certain disclosure information that must be provided by a building contractor to a client if the client requests it; or if the building work is for not less than the prescribed minimum price: minimum content for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price: implied terms for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price where the contract does not contain the prescribed minimum content: information and documentation that must be provided by a building contractor to a client on the completion of building work.

View on Information Provider website

Building \(Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies\) Regulations 2014

Description

These regulations, which come into force on 1 January 2015, are the Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014. For the purposes of Part 4A of the Building Act 2004 (the Act), which concerns consumer rights and remedies in relation to residential building work, these regulations prescribe the minimum price for residential building contracts for building work that must be in writing, must be dated, and must contain certain minimum content: a checklist and certain disclosure information that must be provided by a building contractor to a client if the client requests it; or if the building work is for not less than the prescribed minimum price: minimum content for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price: implied terms for residential building contracts for not less than the prescribed minimum price where the contract does not contain the prescribed minimum content: information and documentation that must be provided by a building contractor to a client on the completion of building work.

View on Information Provider website

This resource does not cite any other resources.

Building (Residential Consumer Rights and Remedies) Regulations 2014

This resource does not CITE any other resources.

Back

Close

Table of Contents

Print Save Email

Feedback

<input type="text"/>	<input type="text"/>	<input type="text"/>
----------------------	----------------------	----------------------

- Contact us
- Privacy policy
- Disclaimer
- Copyright

<input type="text"/>	<input type="text"/>	<input type="text"/>
----------------------	----------------------	----------------------

Feedback